For Immediate Release*GovDelivery Named One of the Region's Fastest-Growing Privately Held Companies

St. Paul, MN (October 20, 2006) — GovDelivery, Inc., the world's leading provider of government-to-citizen e-mail communication solutions, was named one of the fastest-growing private companies in Minnesota. The company was ranked 17th by The Minneapolis/St. Paul Business Journal's Fast 50, a ranking of the 50 fastest-growing private companies in the Twin Cities.

"We're thrilled to be recognized as one of the fastest-growing companies in the region," says Scott Burns, co-founder and CEO of GovDelivery. "This is one of the most prestigious awards in the Twin Cities business market, and we believe our growth and this honor reflect our commitment to providing outstanding service to the public sector."

Founded in 1999 with a mission of helping government communicate more effectively with the public, GovDelivery has become the number one sender of government-to-citizen e-mails and currently sends more than five million e-mail communications every month on behalf of government clients. In the past year, the company has doubled its client base and expanded its workforce by more than sixty percent to keep pace with its rapid growth. GovDelivery serves clients at all levels of government, including the FBI; U.K. Parliament, U.S. Departments of Labor, State, Agriculture, Transportation and Commerce; California Department of Insurance; Maricopa County, AZ; the cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul; and many others.

The Business Journal's Fast 50 is the most recent honor that GovDelivery has received over the past year recognizing the company's strong performance and excellent leadership. Earlier this year, the Twin Cities Business Monthly recognized Burns as one of the Twin Cities' six "Emerging Leaders." In May, the Minneapolis/St. Paul Business Journal awarded Burns the "Forty Under 40" distinction.

The Business Journal's Fast 50 ranks companies based on their year-over-year revenue growth for the three most recently completed fiscal years.
